DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Germany on September 13, 1999. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the 199 43 847.1 application as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).

Specification

2. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 4-8 and 12-17 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 4-8 and 12-17 have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-3 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 4,400,659 to Barron et al.

Barron et al. clearly teaches the construction of a high-speed apparatus and method of control of reactive power of for voltage stabilization in electric power systems comprising an electrical network (41_{a,b,c}), in which electrical power is produced by an electrical generator (10) preferably driven by the rotor (13) of a wind power installation (20) and suitably modulated by means of a compensation device (Figure 1) between the generator and the network for the compensation of reactive power by adaptation of the phase and/or amplitude of the reactive power component of the delivered electrical power, characterised in that the compensation device is so regulated that:

the electrical power delivered to the consumer has a reactive power component which is adapted in respect of its phase and/or amplitude and in respect of its frequency to the consumer to compensate for the reactive power in the consumer (from column 3, line 64 to column 4, line 6);

the electrical generator produces capacitive reactive power in order to compensate for the inductive reactive power in the consumer (column 4, lines 7-17); and the delivered electrical power is of a frequency which corresponds to the frequency of the reactive power caused by the consumer or represents a multiple of said frequency (column 3, lines 35-46).

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892.
